

With over fifteen years experience in the health care industry, ten of which have been in private practice as a Registered Massage Therapist (RMT), Angela Gauthier is passionate about empowering others through knowledge.

Angela graduated from the Massage Therapy College of Manitoba (now Evolve College of Massage Therapy) in June 2013 and joined the Massage Therapy Association of Manitoba that same year.

Since entering the massage therapy profession, she has worked in a variety practice environments including a home clinic as well as multidisciplinary clinics. Angela strives to create a holistic environment for all her patients.

Angela has been an instructor with Evolve College of Massage Therapy for the past decade and is known for her kindness, compassion, and humour in the classroom and clinic room. Nominator Tylor Prather shares “She has earned the adoration and gratitude from her students and clients alike. She is constantly seeking to expand her knowledge to share with others, aiming to inspire them to challenge themselves and continue growing in their massage therapy practices.”

As an instructor at Evolve Angela teaches the Pathology and Advanced Treatment courses. She challenges students to think critically when it comes to addressing their patients’ health concerns as well as navigating the array of health conditions and stages of life they will encounter throughout their careers as health professionals. She inspires for her students and colleagues to be mindful of their patients’ minds, bodies and where they are in their health journey.

During the pandemic in 2020, she did not falter and continued to bring 110% to each class, and consistently looked for ways to improve her teaching as well as improve the massage therapy profession.

Angela is a dedicated and respected educator who nurtures a positive learning environment. She adeptly connects the ideas from each class and weaves them together in the keystone class of Advanced Treatments. Some might say that she is responsible for putting the final polish on the graduates at Evolve College.

Her experience, years of practice, and insight into this profession make her a perfect recipient for the 2024 MTAM Educator of the Year.

On behalf of the MTAM Board of Directors, congratulations Angela!
